

DARK: HARAJUKU
Crisis Team!

I don't mean to alarm you, but...

Several years from now, the major cities of the world will be destroyed by the alien SCOOPERS.

They will greedily suck up whatever they can and take it back to their weird unknown planet, somewhere far away, for reasons we can't possibly begin to understand.

Everything will change, and nothing for the better...

But worst of all will be RITO's nightmares as she dreams about the past and that first wave of attacks over and over again.

(She lost her home in Tokyo, and her family there. Surviving and finding her way after wasn't easy...)

Today, RITO's moans and groans are so loud that they wake up KOTOKO and MARI (and probably most of Harajuku, too) who are sleeping nearby and having dreams of their own.

Now, it's time for everyone to rise and shine...
